PHLEBOLOGY Colorado 2011

27-29 January 2011

PROGRAM DIRECTOR
John Kingsley, MD

PROGRAM CO-DIRECTOR
James Ingram, MD

Invitation To Attend

Dear Colleagues,

I would like to invite you to attend our 2011 meeting of phlebology friends and colleagues at The Peaks Resort and Golden Spa, Telluride, Colorado. Attendee numbers will be limited to keep the meeting relatively small (40-50 practitioners), although we will not restrict or prevent others from attending if they request - this is not a "selected" group of invitation only attendees.

This is a meeting of friends and colleagues in a particularly pleasant location, to discuss informally any topic of interest relative to the phlebology specialty.

We may also ease a little into the cosmetic world, as this is a natural extension.

I look forward to hearing if you can attend.

Sincerely,

Dr John R. Kingsley
M.D., F.A.C.S.

"The Phlebology Colorado meeting in Telluride was the most dynamic and interactive phlebology meeting I have ever attended. The format of the meeting encouraged discussion and I came away with numerous ways to make my phlebology practice better. I will definitely be back next year."

M. Manning MD

"The discussion of venous issues was great and the exchange was refreshing."

J. Isobe MD

"Thanks for putting on a great meeting. Skiing was great."

A. Crowther MD

"Loved the entire encounter. Sign me up for next year."

R. Kolegraff MD

"The casual atmosphere was fantastic at the meeting."

D. Guest MD

"Thanks again for a great meeting."

S. Darling MD

Experience Telluride

Telluride is best known for its world-class ski resort, which boasts 1,700 acres of terrain and three air gardens and terrain parks.

Telluride's slopes and lifts remain uncrowded throughout the season - in fact, the mountain is so uncrowded that you'll often feel like you are on your own private ski slope.

The Telluride ski experience offers a genuine mountain experience for all levels of skiers thanks to a mix of quality terrain at all points on the mountain. From refined groomed runs to challenging moguls, there truly is something for everyone. Even beginners and intermediate skiers can ride to the highest peaks and enjoy terrain and views typically reserved for the experts. Find out why Telluride has been called, "The most beautiful place you'll ever ski."

Telluride is known for its world-class skiing and snowboarding, but that's not all there is to do here. Whether you're a non-skier or you are taking a day off from the slopes there is plenty to keep you occupied in the San Juans. From snowshoeing to soaking at the spa to soaring through the sky in a glider, there's something for everyone!
