Kia ora Dear Colleagues and Friends,

On behalf of the Organising Committee, it is my great privilege and pleasure to invite you to the ‘City of Sails’ (Auckland, New Zealand), hosting the 13th Annual Scientific Meeting (ASM) and Workshops of the Australasian College of Phlebology. This conference celebrates the 10th anniversary of the formation of the Australasian College of Phlebology.

We have put together a stimulating scientific program that will highlight the latest scientific advances in our field along with high quality keynote and symposium lectures. The invited international keynote speakers include:

- Prof. Imre Bihari, Phlebologist, Vascular Surgeon, Hungary
- Dr. Attilio Cavezzi, Phlebologist, Vascular Surgeon, Italy
- Prof. Philip Coleridge-Smith, Phlebologist, Vascular Surgeon, UK
- Prof. JJ Guex, UIP Treasurer, Phlebologist, Vascular Physician, France
- Prof. Ted King, Phlebologist, USA
- Dr. Nick Morrison, President American College of Phlebology, Vascular Surgeon, USA
- Assoc. Prof. Makoto Ohta, Professor of Biomedical Engineering and Fluid Mechanics, Japan
- Dr. Michel Schadeck, Phlebologist, Vascular Physician, France
- Dr. Marc Vuylsteke, Vascular Surgeon, Belgium

The 3 day ASM includes keynote lectures, original papers, panel discussions, and the popular ‘Controversies in Phlebology’ key-pad interactive debates. As usual, the Program’s emphasis is on good science and evidence based medicine.

Pre-conference courses include a 2-day Basic Phlebology Course covering all aspects of sclerotherapy, and a concurrent 2-day Advanced Phlebology Course covering interventional techniques, coagulation, dermatology and rheology workshops. The format of these courses emphasise a tutorial type sessions providing interaction with the participants.

The popular one-day Diagnostic Imaging Ultrasound Workshop will run on the last day of the meeting for ultrasound enthusiasts. Parallel to this Workshop, ACP will also conduct its equally popular one-day Laser Safety Officer Certification Workshop.

The Scanmedics Conference Welcome Party, The ‘Last Drink’, on Waiheke Island will be unforgettable…ensure you have your tickets!

The Confering Ceremony and the Conference Dinner will be again a highlight of this year’s meeting. The gothic Auckland Town Hall will host our Confering Ceremony promising entertainment and glamour enjoyed by the delegates in our previous events.

I look forward to seeing you all in Auckland, New Zealand!

Ka kite ano,

Kurosh Parsi
President, Australasian College of Phlebology
KEYNOTE & INVITED INTERNATIONAL SPEAKERS

2010 KEN MYERS ORATOR

Professor Earl Owen
Professor Earl Owen, known as the Father of Microsurgery designed micro instruments, microscopes and new operations to save congenitally abnormal babies from dying at birth in the 1960s. He was the co-leader of that team and the same group that also performed the world’s first double hand transplantation.

Professor Masud Behnia
Masud Behnia has worked in experimental and numerical fluid mechanics and heat transfer for over 25 years. He has, in particular, extensively studied two-phase flow systems using experiments and CFD simulations. He has substantial experience in validating numerical results by comparison with experimental data. Results of his research have been widely published in journals and conferences and his career total publications include more than 350 refereed papers.

Professor Imre Bihari
Imre Bihari studied at the Medical Faculty of Semmelweis University in Budapest. He spent 29 years working for the National Medical Center, Medical University, and became University Associate Professor, Department of Cardiac and Vascular Surgery.

Supported by:

Dr Atilio Cavezzi
Dr Atilio Cavezzi is a vascular surgeon from S. Benedetto del Tronto, Italy. Atilio has undoubtedly been instrumental in promotion of foam, ultrasound guided sclerotherapy as a legitimate alternative to surgery in many countries and in particular in Australia and New Zealand. Atilio is an international teacher of phlebology and lymphology, has hundreds of publications and is the author or co-author of a number of books in Phlebology and Lymphology.

Supported by:

Professor Phillip Coleridge Smith
Professor Coleridge Smith is a Reader in Surgery at UCL Medical School, London UK. He pioneered the introduction of duplex ultrasonography in the clinical investigation of venous disease in the UK. Professor Coleridge Smith has pioneered the introduction of ultrasound guided foam sclerotherapy for the treatment of varicose veins into the UK and keeps series of over one thousand patients under review.

Supported by:

Dr Jean Jerome Guex
Jean Jerome Guex, MD, FACPh is coauthor of the definitive book on sclerotherapy, Treatment of Varicose and Telangiectatic Leg Veins, 4th Edition. He is Past President of la Societe Francaise de Phlebologie and Treasurer of the Union Internationale de Phlebologie. He is a Member of the American Venous Forum and is a Fellow and Honorary Member of the American College of Phlebology. Emeritus Fellow of the Australasian College of Phlebology and Member of the Board of Directors of the American College of Phlebology.

Supported by:

Professor Ted King
Dr. King is a clinical assistant professor at the Medical School of the University of Illinois in Chicago. Dr. King has expertise in ultrasound venous mapping, endovenous thermal and chemical ablation, ultrasound-guided foam sclerotherapy, and visually guided liquid and foam sclerotherapy. His research interests include all endovenous treatment modalities. Clinically, Dr. King’s clinical interests include the non-surgical treatment of symptomatic vulvar and labial varices, Klippel-Trenaunay Syndrome, Restless Legs Syndrome secondary to varicose vein disease, recurrent varicose veins after previous treatment, venous stasis ulcers, and the cosmetic treatment of hand and facial veins.
Dr Nick Morrison
Nick Morrison, MD, FACS, FACPh is a world-renowned leader in the field of phlebology who has dedicated his medical practice to veins. He is a fellow with the American College of Surgeons and American College of Phlebology and President-elect of the American College of Phlebology. He established the Morrison Vein Institute in Scottsdale, AZ and is a partner in the Morrison Training Institute for physicians, nurses, and ultrasound technologists.

Professor Ken Myers
Prof Ken Myers has had a major interest in venous disease for more than 25 years. Professor Myers is the Chancellor of the Australasian College of Phlebology and has participated in or organised many international phlebology meetings. He has been at the forefront of developing new techniques such as echosclerotherapy and endovenous laser therapy.

Associate Professor Makoto Ohta
Makoto Ohta is Associate Professor, Institute of Fluid Science, Tohoku University, Sendai, Japan. Assoc. Prof Ohta’s has a particular interest in fluid mechanics, blood flow, biomaterials and the role of engineering in the medical field. He holds an heuristic perspective on health treatment, with a belief that not only doctors and pharmacologists hold the key for future treatments, but that engineers will also help to create new procedures.

Professor Neil Piller
Professor Neil Piller is the Director of the Lymphoedema Assessment Clinic, Department of Centre. He is Australasian Editor of Lymphatic Research and Biology and on the Editorial Board of US and Chinese Journals of Lymphology. Neil has released a DVD on “The Vital Essence - Understanding the lymphatic system in Health and Disease” and is the main Author of “The Lymphoedema Handbook” published in 2006. He was the Chair of the 2009 International Society of Lymphology meeting in Australia.

Dr Michel Schadeck
Dr Michel Schadeck is a phlebologist and angiologist and a Past President of French Society of Phlebology practicing in Paris. He has been credited with the development of ultrasound guided sclerotherapy in 1985 and has been instrumental in the globalisation of this treatment modality. Dr Shadeck was the co-founder of the European School of Phlebology (1989) and a founding member of the European Venous Forum (1999). He has published two books and more than 45 scientific papers in the fields of sclerotherapy, ultrasound guided sclerotherapy, superficial venous investigations, varicose disease and treatment in childhood, mercury bath-presotherapy, lymphology and epidemiology.

Supported by:

Professor André van Rij
André M van Rij is Professor of Surgery at the Dunedin School of Medicine University of Otago where he directs the Vascular Research Unit. His research has focused on venous disease and the biology of varicose vein recurrence and venous thrombosis. His translational research bridges new basic research into the venous clinic. Professor van Rij is a vascular surgeon and President of the NZ Association of General Surgeons. Professor van Rij is the Deputy Chancellor of the Australasian College of Phlebology.

Dr Marc Vuylsteke
Dr Marc Vuylsteke is a vascular surgeon at St-Andries Hospital, Tielt, Belgium. Marc has published many articles on endovenous laser treatment. He is a member of the Benelux Society of Phlebology and is on the organising committee for the 11th meeting of the European Venous Forum in Antwerp, June 2010.

Supported by:
The Australasian College of Phlebology (ACP) is a multi-specialty organization dedicated to promotion of phlebology research, teaching and training in Australasia.

Our membership includes medical practitioners and other health professionals such as scientists and sonographers dedicated to education and research in the field of phlebology. Our members have a shared interest in phlebology, but represent a variety of medical specialties, including vascular surgery and medicine, dermatology, haematology, interventional radiology, general surgery, and family medicine.

Since its inception in 1993, the ACP has been active in promoting education and research in phlebology and serves the general public as a resource regarding vein disorders. Public educational initiatives such as patient education seminars, GP education workshops and media interviews are undertaken by College Fellows on a regular basis. Our mission is to improve the standards of practice and patient care as it relates to venous disorders.

The ACP is a member of the Union International Phlebologie (UIP), a multi-national organization that has member phlebology organizations from 35 countries from Europe, North America, Latin America, and Asia.

Annual Scientific Meetings and Workshops of ACP were initiated in 1994. These meetings have been instrumental in disseminating knowledge and experience among specialists from many medical disciplines.

The ideal alternative to classic surgical stripping of the great and small saphenous veins!

- Less painful
- Less bruising
- Less expensive fibers

The Endo laser 1500nm delivers the optimal wavelength for the endoluminal treatment of varicose veins. The 1500 nm is 1000 times more absorbent in water than 810 nm with this greater specificity requiring less power, implying less heat diffusion in surrounding tissue and no undesirable side effects. Only a minimum of local anesthesia is needed, delivered through a sole puncture with patients being able to walk within 15 minutes of the treatment.

Key features:
- Wavelength: 1500 nm
- Procedure power: 6W
- Maximum laser output power: 12 W
- Red aiming beam (630 nm) enables visibility of fiber tip throughout procedure
- Small, portable, weighing approx 10kg
- Synchronized pull back device available
- Fiber tester incorporated

TRANSPORTATION
Langham Hotel Limousine Service
Guests can be picked up from the airport by a chauffeur who will have an accommodation registration card for the guest in the limousine - you can complete the card during the journey - the chauffeur will take a swipe of your credit card for guarantee and will also have the keys for your room(s) so you can go straight to your designated room upon arrival at the hotel.

The cost is: $90.00 including GST from Airport to the hotel and $75.00 including GST from Hotel to the airport. Indicate on the conference registration form if you would like to book a limousine transfer.

Taxis and shuttles
Auckland Airport licenses specific taxi and shuttle companies to ensure airport visitors and travellers receive a high standard of service. All taxi and shuttle companies are able to drop you off at the airport, however only licensed companies are able to pick you up from the designated taxi ranks at the terminal buildings.

Taxi and shuttle ranks are located outside the arrivals area (door 8) at the international terminal. You can pre-book with one of the companies listed below or just turn up at the terminal ranks – taxis and shuttles are always available. Indicative fares from the airport into the city is between NZ$60 – NZ$80 one-way for a taxi. For specific fare pricing, contact the taxi and shuttle companies directly.
